BIG HONEY SHIPMENT

Several Tons Come
From Molokai
Apiary.

The largest single shipment of honey in bulk shipped by the Sandwich Island Honey Co. of Kaunakakai, Molokai, arrived here last evening on the steamer Likelike. The shipment amounted to 764 cases, each case weighing 135 pounds. The honey is shipped in oil tins, two to a case. It goes to London where it forms an ingredient in the manufacture of food stuffs. The company will probably ship in the neighborhood of 2000 cases this year. The apiary is located on the beach at Kaunakakai in a long stretch of kiawe trees.

NEW BOTTLE THAT CANNOT BE REFILLED

The housekeeper will hail with joy a newly invented bottle not yet on the market. It is absolutely non-refillable.

This means the end of adulteration and substitution of the contents of bottles, according to the inventor.

The bottle, once filled and stoppered, can be readily emptied of its last drop, but nothing can be put into the bottle again without smashing it.

There are other non-refillable bottles, but they have metallic parts, which, according to the inventor, makes them useless for many liquids, such as wines or whiskeys, bay rum and all alcoholic mixtures.

A tack driven into a cask of whiskey is often enough to ruin its contents. The invention relates to a stopper to be inserted in the opening of a bottle, jug, barrel, cask or other vessel used to contain liquids of any sort, and it is so constructed as to prevent any such containing vessel when provided with the device from being refilled after it has been emptied of its original contents. Others have attempted to accomplish these results with various sorts of devices, but none of them provides such a mechanism as prevents refilling of the bottle or other container when a so-called "vacuum machine" is used or even when the vessel is laid on its side and wholly or partly submerged in liquid.

This invention consists of a suitably formed exterior shell constructed of a single tube, or preferably in two pieces, namely, a three-quarter and a one-quarter section, into which is fitted a cone-shaped movable stopper, the whole apparatus to be inserted, after filling the vessel, and securely held in place by rings or washers of rubber or other compressed material fitted around and sealed upon annular rings of the surface of the shell.

MISSION DOLORES

San Francisco, 1869.

Bells of the Past, whose long forgotten music
Still fills the wide expanse,
Tinging the sober twilight of the present
With color of romance.

I hear your call, and see the sun descending
On rock and wave and sand,
As down the coast the mission voices blending
Girdle the heathen land.

Within the circle of your incantation
No blight nor mildew falls;
No fierce unrest, nor lust, nor low ambition,
Passes those airy walls.

Borne on the swell of your long waves receding
I touch the farther Past,—
I see the dying glow of Spanish glory,
The sunset dream and last!

Once more I see Portola's cross uplifting
Above the setting sun;
And past the headland, northward, slowly drifting
The freighted galleon.

O solemn bells, whose consecrated masses
Recall the faith of old,—
O tinkling bells! that lulled with twilight music
The spiritual fold!

Your voices break and falter in the darkness—
Break, falter, and are still;
And veiled and mystic, like the Host descending,
The sun sinks from the hill!

—Bret Harte.

THE BENNINGTON.

BY KARL VON HEERMANN.

This of our ships will sail the seas no more;
The sun-kissed seas that break in milky foam,
The angry seas lashed by the whistling gale,
The seas that moan farewell or shout of home.

No more beyond the far horizon's rim
Shall she drop down to bear around the world
The flag of flags, the banner of the world,
The banner of the world's white sails.

For out of her white sails, the sunless years,
For out of her white sails, the sunless years,
For out of her white sails, the sunless years,
The sea she cleaves the golden Sea of Tears.

A TESTIMONIAL

By WALLACE IRWIN

I THOUGHT that my health was as good as the next.

But learned it was terribly bad;
For I found, after reading the newspaper text
Of a loud patent-medicine ad.
That mushrooms were growing all over my liver,
That something was loose in my heart,
That due to my spleen all my nerves had turned green

And my lungs were not doing their part.
I wrote Dr. Sharko and got an answer,
"The wart on your thumb is incipient cancer."

I've taken Ze-ru-na for forty-nine days,
And Scamp Bark, my symptoms to gag;
And isn't it queer—all my pains disappear
When the medicine gives me a jag!
A "lovely sensation" I get from them all
Which banishes carking annoy,
So gayly I drink 'em—and Lydia Pinkum
Has added her quota of joy.
And I've sent Dr. Bogie a neat little sum
For "radiuh tests" on the wart on my thumb.

When Baby is restless a bottle I keep
Of Ma Winslow's Syrup. It takes
A spoonful of poison to put him to sleep
And another one when he awakes;
He lies in a paralyzed, hypnotized state.
So calm you can see at a glance

That the dear little chick sleeps as sound as a brick
When he's neatly laid out in a trance;
And I'm sure every Mother could learn, if she would,
The knock-out-drop method to keep Baby good.

While reading bright essays on "wonderful cures"
In decent newspapers each day
I see all the symptoms our tired flesh endures
And fly to my drugs in dismay.
I've Snyderzone, Fakezone stocked on my shelf
With Horner's Safe Waters of Life:
I'm taking three-fourths of the tippie myself!
And giving the rest to my Wife—
And if there is anything left after that
I give it to Admiral Togo, the cat.

So this Testimonial I would indorse

To give all Poor Sufferers hope.
Much pain I've endured, but I'm "Positive"
Cured!"

So long as I'm taking the dope.
The baby has spasms, my Wife's throwing fits,
And I'm feeling fuzzy and bad—
For I feel we've amassed all the symptoms
at last

Which you read in the medicine ad.
The Ready-made Cure and the Angels who make it
Thus comfort and bless the poor Devils who take it!
